U.S. AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

by Jason Bowman

The U.S. Amateur Championship is all about legacy, leaving your mark in a tournament contested by some of the best amateur players to ever pick up a cue stick - names like Parks, Brodt, Chen and Jones.

Pool tournaments come and go, but securing the title of U.S. Amateur Champion is something you carry with you forever, literally. Not only does it stand out on an amateur billiard resume, but your name is forever added to the Trophy of Champions for generations to come.

Legacy is what drove more than 2,100 of North America's top amateur players to try and qualify for the 25th Annual event. That's what brought 128 men and 41 women to Stroker's in Palm Harbor, Fla., in early November to compete in the 2018 U.S. Amateur Championship.

Of course there were some great perks too. Like a getaway to the Tampa area, one of the premier vacation destinations in the world, at a time when most of the country is experiencing their first taste of winter.

An all-expenses paid trip to a pro event, courtesy of the APA, for the winners of each division.

Oh, and did we mention the championship trophy - a combination of marble and bronze that more closely resembles a piece of art than something won in a pool tournament.

U.S. AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP

Hurricane Abe Takes U.S. Amateur Championship by Storm

There's a new kid in town, and his name is Abrin Schaad. The 26-year-old from Peoria, Ill., took the 2018 U.S. Amateur Championship field by storm, earning the nickname "Hurricane Abe" in the process. Schaad went undefeated, winning seven matches, and knocking five-time champion Brian Parks to the one-loss bracket along the way.

Runner-Up – Mike Leigh of Barrie, ON

3rd Place – Henry Brodt of Laguna Beach, CA

4th Place – Brian Parks of Bakersfield, CA

He defeated fellow "young gun" Mike Leigh of Barrie, Ontario in the final round, 11-3, after handing Leigh his first loss of the tournament just two rounds prior.

In the championship match, Schaad opened up an 8-0 lead in the 8-Ball set before Leigh finally got on the board in the first game of the 9-Ball set. By then, though, the outcome seemed but a mere formality. Schaad ultimately closed out one of the most dominating finals performances in U.S. Amateur Championship history with a 9-On-the-Snap to cap the victory.

Schaad will move on to compete in a 2019 pro event, courtesy of APA, and, more importantly, his name will be added to the Larry Hubbart Trophy, forever cementing his legacy as a U.S. Amateur Champion.

Leigh finished as the Runner-Up, his highest finish in the U.S. Amateur Championship.

Former champions Henry Brodt and Brian Parks finished

One hundred-twenty eight players competed in the U.S. Amateur Championship including eight former champions.

TOURNAMENT COVERAGE

Cossette Takes Down Reigning Champ in Epic Hill-Hill Battle

Lisa Cossette of Rockwell, N.C., defeated reigning champion Melinda Huang of Los Angeles in a hill-hill battle by a score of 9-8. She advances to a 2019 pro event.

That's how the story ends. But, how it unfolded is a tale that will go down as one of the most epic showdowns in U.S. Amateur Championship history.

The opening act begins late on the final day of competition in the hot-seat match, with both players undefeated and the winner heading to the championship match, while the loser would have to square-off in a play-in semifinal.

Huang, the defending champion, and savvy veteran of many U.S. Amateur Championship matches, outlasted Cossette 5-4 in a hill-hill battle that would serve as the opening act for what was to come.

Cossette then battled her way back by ousting Tina Hess in the semifinal round, setting up a rematch between herself and Huang.

In the finale, Huang jumped out to a quick 3-0 lead in the extended race-to-9. Cossette then found her stroke and took the next four games and a 4-3 lead. That lead was short-lived as Huang quickly won the next three games, regaining the lead 6-4. Then it was once again Cossette's turn to go on a run, winning the next four games to go on-the-hill. Like a true champion, Huang wasn't going down without a fight. She took the next two games, to force one final game, where the winner would take all.

In the final game, Huang was at the table with no clear shot on the 4-ball which was blocked by the 9-ball and the 5-ball. Rather than give her opponent ball-in-hand, Huang attempted an aggressive shot that would have been remarkable if she could execute it. Unfortunately, however, she fouled. With ball-inhand, and the 4-ball no longer tied up, Cossette ran out the table for the victory.

After nearly four hours, Cossette had avenged the earlier loss to Huang and captured her first Womens U.S. Amateur Championship title.

Huang finished as the Runner-Up while Tina Hess of Huntsville, Ala., finished in 3rd Place.

Forty-one ladies competed in the Womens U.S. Amateur Championship, including three former champions.

Runner-Up – Melinda Huang of Los Angeles, CA

3rd Place – Tina Hess of Huntsville, AL

League Operator Spotlight Nikki & Shannon Brown – Northeast Dallas APA

"We love the flexibility APA offers our schedules and the ability to work from home."

How long were you APA members before deciding to become League Operators?

Shannon and I played in the APA for almost 15 years when the opportunity to become League Operators presented itself.

What made you decide to look into becoming League Operators? Was the process of becoming a League Operator difficult?

Shannon's dad was a League Operator in Missouri, and we were both tired of working so hard for somebody else. When the APA League in Dallas became available, we knew we had to jump on it. The process wasn't overly complicated. We were happy to go through the process as quickly as possible and make the move.

Briefly describe life as League Operators.

It's hard work just like any business, but we also have down time that helps balance out what can sometimes be long hours. To be honest, we were both workaholics anyway. We love the flexibility APA offers our schedules and the ability to work from home. We're also both night owls who don't mind working weekends. If I had to sum up the life as an APA League Operator, I guess I'd describe it as rush, relax, panic a little, relax...on permanent repeat!

What do you most enjoy about being a League Operator?

The people—always the people. I've never seen a group that's so supportive of one another. It's truly a community—a family. Like any family, you have moments where you don't see eye to eye on something, but I tell you what, if anyone needs help, and somebody has the ability to provide it, they always do so! It's truly amazing to be a part of.

Win or Lose – Always Be a Good Sportsman!

What does it mean to be a good sportsman? Merriam-Webster defines "sportsman" as, "a person who shows sportsmanship". Fair enough, but what does it mean to show sportsmanship? Another glance at Merriam-Webster and we see that "sportsmanship" is defined as, "conduct (as fairness, respect for one's opponent and graciousness in winning or losing) becoming to one participating in a sport".

"One man practicing sportsmanship is far better than a hundred teaching it." —Knute Bockne

In most sports, we choose to play and train with our own personal equipment.

Billiards is no exception. Why not play with the best equipment at your local pool room ?

Improving Your Game with Bruce Barthelette

Bruce Barthelette, "The Big Guy", is a professional poolplayer, and one of the top 10 trick shot players in the world. He has appeared on ESPN over 10 times, including the most recent World Cup of Trickshots tournament. He has played with Jeanette Lee, aka "The Black Widow", Mike Massey, Andy Segal, and Tom Rossman, among other top professionals in the game. He also played with Ewa Laurance and Allison Fisher, two members of the BCA Billiard Hall of Fame.

Bruce, along with his wife Ann, has run the second largest APA Pool League for over 20 years. With more than 6,000 players in the League, the APA of Connecticut is second only to Maryland.

Bruce Barthelette's book, "Pool & Billiards," is available on Amazon.com.

Grip Players often overlook this part of the mechanics.

How you grip the cue can make a big difference in the amount of action applied to the cue ball. Only a few basic grips are used in holding a cue. After all, it is your back hand holding the butt of the cue. Not many grips are available.

On normal shots you want to grip your cue in the same place every time. Players have a tendency to move their hand forward when they are in a pressure situation. Doing this will cause you to change your normal stroke. When you do this, making the shot and playing position will be more difficult.

Another bad habit is to twist the wrist during the shot. You want your grip to remain in the same position throughout the shot. Doing this will help to ensure a straight follow-through. If you find yourself twisting the wrist during the shot, you may want to use a wrist strap, similar to what bowlers use. This strap helps to keep your wrist straight on all of your shots.

The most important aspects of a grip are being comfortable and relaxed. If your grip is comfortable, then it will be easier to keep it relaxed all the way through the shot. It does no good to have your grip relaxed if just before you strike the cue ball the tension builds up and you tighten your grip. Stay in a relaxed position until you hear the ball go into the pocket.

Almost all professionals make their stroke look effortless because they are relaxed. After you are able to control this part of your game, you will quickly become a better player.

Where to Hold the Cue

- Your hand placement on the cue is generally about 4 to 8 inches from the end of the butt.
- This placement, of course, depends on the length of the cue, your size, and the type of shot.
- Be careful to not let your grip hand choke up too far on the stick.
- You should grip the cue in the same spot every time unless a specialty shot dictates otherwise.

Gripping Too Loosely

- Holding the cue too loosely is a much better problem than holding it too tightly. It is also much easier to correct.
- The danger of holding the cue too loosely is that it may slip out of your hands after you hit a shot.
- Also, your hand may move during the shot, sliding along the butt of the cue and causing you to lose some control.

Gripping Too Tightly

- Gripping too tightly on the cue will cause you to lose action on the cue ball. This grip is sometimes referred to as the "white knuckler."
- This type of grip will most likely happen when you are in a pressure or game winning situation.
- Don't worry. It commonly happens to inexperienced players. You will now be better prepared the next time a situation comes up in which you feel your grip getting tighter.

Just Right

- The best way to describe the perfect grip in pool is to pretend that you have a bird in your hand; you don't want to hurt it, but you don't want it to get away.
- This will help you produce the proper tension.
- When the pressure is on, you should think back to this analogy.
- You will become a more consistent player when using the proper grip.

Cue Ball — Away

DEGREE OF DIFFICULTY: 1. CONFIDENCE 2 minutes, 12 seconds FACTOR: per day for 3 days

SETUP/POSITION: Place 1-ball and 2-ball 2 inches apart and each ball 1/8-inch away from head cushion. Center near name plate of middle diamond of rail the entire setup. Cue ball over edge of two balls from above and head (eye) over cue ball aiming downward at ball edges. Body should be rock solid stance and head motionless, with hold on (c). DOUBLE CHECK SETUP!

BALL(S) POCKETED/OBJECTIVE: With the thumb on one side of the cue ball and the index on the other, hold the cue ball over the two object balls below... 6-8 inches from cue ball. Sighting with eye over cue ball to balls below, drop cue ball and make (1) in TL and (2) in BL.

ADJUSTMENT ANALYSIS: A perfect drop is required in being successful on this challenge. If object balls hit cushion and bounce out missing pockets, move sighting and cue ball back slightly toward your body. If object balls hit side cushions #1 and #3 without hitting head cushion and therefore missing again, move head and sighting with cue ball out away from your body more. If one ball moves more quickly than the other or one moves and the other doesn't adjust right or left of the aim view from above. Try not to throw cue ball downward—just let go and drop cue ball. This is a great little challenge for all. ENJOY!

The Move Rule!

SETUP/POSITION: 1-ball as diagrammed; Cue ball 4 inches from the 1-ball and placed so that it is aimed (A) at 1/3 of the 1-ball straight on line. The 2-ball is set straight in line with the cue ball on the TC-BC center line. The 2-ball is also 4 inches from the 1-ball. Maintain sound fundamental form and concentrate. DOUBLE CHECK SETUP!

BALL(S) POCKETED/OBJECTIVE: Hitting cue ball at aim point (a) on 1-ball, the 1-ball goes left and the cue ball deflects to the right, leaving an open path for the cue stick to follow through to the 2-ball. The cue actually contacts the 2-ball for its make at TC!

ADJUSTMENT ANALYSIS: When striking the cue ball, if the contacted 1-ball hits the 2-ball, then your aim was faulty—adjust to the right slightly. If the 1-ball contacts the 2-ball again, you may not have the four inch spacing needed to be successful. Assuming all goes well with the cue ball and 1-ball getting out of the way and the 2-ball doesn't move, extend more on follow-through. If you hit the 2-ball, but miscue off it or make a non-straight hit, then firm up that bridge! Raise your cue immediately and prepare to "move" out of town as you have just done the unthinkable. INSTRUCTION BY EWA LAURANCE

STROKIN' IT!

We all have different styles when playing the game that may depend on a myriad of things. And, that's okay. There's no perfect cookie-cutter stance, stroke or setup that you must adhere to. Some of us were self-taught from the very beginning, feel comfortable with our stroke and don't want to make any major changes. Some started at a very early age, and by not being able to reach the table, developed some unorthodox traits. I've seen dozens of styles that work, both by amateurs and pros. But, one thing that you may want to pay attention to is giving yourself the best chance to deliver the follow-through correctly by verifying where you hold the cue with your shooting hand.

My best advice to you is to think of the shooting arm as if it were a pendulum. You want the forearm to be close to straight up and down when you're at address. Then, bring the arm back a distance that will mirror the follow-through needed to deliver the shot you're faced with. In other words, if it's just a little tap, or a very slow shot, you only need to bring the arm back slightly. If a power stroke is needed, then you would need more of a takeback.

Holding the cue too far forward can result in dropping the elbow at delivery, or resulting in the not-so-popular "chicken wing" or grabbing the cue too tightly during the follow-through. Too far back and it may cause you to lose accuracy of the shot.

The forearm is close to perpendicular to the cue (1). This way, you can comfortably move the cue back the length needed to set up for the shot, (2) and also be in the perfect position to follow-through to complete the stroke (3).

Making this slight change can have a huge impact on your stroke and shot making accuracy.
